What are ERGs?

ERGs are voluntary, employee-led groups in an organization formed to act as a resource for the group members and the organization. They are typically based upon a demographic (e.g., women, race, etc.), life stage (e.g., Generation Y, parents, etc.) or function (e.g., sales, engineering, etc.), but they may also be based on other identities.

ERG's are dedicated to fostering a diverse and inclusive work environment!

Most Common ERGs in Canada, Europe, Japan, and the United States

Type of ERG	% Survey Respondents in Canada, Europe, Japan, and the United States With ERGs (N=176)
Women employees	94%
LGBT employees	61%
Employees with disabilities	27%
Employees who are parents	26%
New employees	19%
Indigenous employees	19%
Employees of various generations	14%

Benefits of ERGs to the Organization

NEW ERG

When developing an ERG it is important to plan the ERG as a business resource. ERGs are initiated in one of two ways:

- By employees
- By employers

Corporate Roles

Executive Sponsor

- Reviews ERG strategies and plans
- Holds ERG responsible for progress
- Acts as a champion and sounding board
- Manages any resistance and questions about the value of the ERG
- Communicates ERG's vision & objectives to management and "opinion leaders"
- Evaluates funding needs
- Assists with fundraising and participates in activities

Inclusion & Diversity

- Coaches ERG leaders
- Tracks organizational attitudes about the ERG
- Provides internal & external resources & support
- Facilitates connections and ensures alignment with other ERGs, I&D efforts and P&C initiatives
- Helps capture & report ERG progress to the organization

People & Culture

- Helps incorporate ERG feedback into organizational policies & practices as appropriate
- Participates selectively in ERG events
