Allied Member
Application

Allied Membership

WHAT IS AN ALLIED MEMBERSHIP?

Allied Member status is available to North American-based companies or individuals who supply services, informational products, materials or equipment to industry members of the Association or purchase products or services from industry members of the Association. A candidate company must also have the endorsement of two Energy Workforce Directors.

BECOMING A MEMBER

Joining Energy Workforce as an Allied Member can be done in three easy steps:

1. Confirm your company is eligible for allied membership:
To be eligible for Allied Membership status, a company or individual must derive revenue through the sale of equipment or services to the oilfield service and supply sector. This membership is $11,000 annually.
2. Find two members of the Energy Workforce Board of Directors and Advisory Board to write a letter of recommendation on your behalf. A list of current board members can be found by visiting our website. Energy Workforce staff can assist in identifying Board of Directors or Advisory Board members who are familiar with your organization and may be willing to provide a referral. Please contact rashley@energyworkforce.org for assistance.
3. Complete and send this application to:
